TEST SENTIMEN

Gets Into County Democratic Committee.

Cratic Committee.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Staunton, Va., May 4.—There is a little stir here in political circles over the "wet" and "dry" question, as it has now gotten into the County Democratic Committee, which is a joint committee of city and county. The committee met and adopted a plan for a primary for selection of candidates for the House of Delegates, the city and county being entitled to two members, and fixed August 5 as the day for the primary, all names to be filed, as required under the law, sixty days before, or by June 2. Candidates for State offices will be voted for at the same time.

The committee published the plan, but said nothing of a further decision of the committee affecting "wet" and "dry." The committee, it came out later, unanimously decided to have separate ballot boxes at the time, in which voters were to have the privilege of voting for or against State-wide submission, the candidates nominated to be bound by the majority sentiment expressed in this voting. A committee was appointed to look into the law, party and otherwise, and if the committee decided it was not in accordance with law, the matter was to be dropped. Two of the three members of the committee agreed that there is no warrant for holding any such election, and hence the matter was dropped. The third member of the committee is not satisfied with the action of the other two, and as a result the chairman, William H. Landes, has called the whole committee to meet on next Tuesday to thresh the matter out.
